

Glenn Kaiser Band, Three Below Zero

Ice in my veins, snow in my bed Pain in my heart
an' a ache in my head Got to know if I'll ever get warm again When it's three below zero and the cold is your only friend

Spent myself, gave myself away
to the highest bidder, and only hell to pay I didn't care, I didn't,
I didn't have no one
And when it's three below zero an' the clouds cover up the sun

When the fire's out, and the house is dark in the freezin' night
Just a lonely dog bark&acute; feelin' helpless an' you just got to pray
When it's three below zero and you need to see the light of day Yeah . . .

Now I found the fire, witness of Your love to me My face in Your mind and condemnation just a memory Yeh, fire in my heart and blood on a cold dark tree
But if you wonder if you'll ever get warm again
When it's three below zero,
you got to find yourself
the warmth of my Friend
So when it's three below zero
you got to find yourself
