Everybody wants contact
Everybody wants comfort and concern
Nobody likes conflict
Or rarely likes watching bridges burn
Everybody wants love
Everybody wants faithfulness
Nobody wants silence
Nobody loves distance, loneliness
Emotions, feelings

Everybody wants grace
Freedom to explore
Everybody loves truth
But when our conscience gets ignored
Your thoughts my wants
My thoughts your needs
Why should anyone care about anything
If there's NO reality
Emotions, feelings
Drowning, we need healing

Everybody wants comfort
And we want it our way
Everybody needs patience
And we want it today
In a fallen world
How do we cope
Like dying children
At the end of our rope
In the love of God
In the light of faith
There is no shame
When you find your place
Emotion
Feeling
Savior
Healing
To know that grace
To be embraced
