Glenn Miller, Blueberry Hill

The Call Of The Canyon Glenn Miller Written by Billy Hill. As recorded by the Glenn Miller Orchestra on August 8th 1940 with Ray Eberle. Just a melancholy echo Lingring when the day is through Its the call of the canyon Once again Im dreaming of you Every night I search the moonlight Up and down the river shore Its the call of the canyon Maybe I will see you once more Standing there alone by the ashes Of the fire we said would never die Will I ever find an ember Burning from the days gone by...? Then I hear a lonely whisper As a little spark I see Its the call of the canyon Bringing back your answer to me! (Transcribed by Alex Foertsch: )
