

Go:Audio, Save me now

It started on a morning around one week ago
I was answering to questions which I don't even know
And from then on it went on and went on
I noticed more and more

? But when you're coming out with phrases that your dad only says
You gotta admit that you can't let it go
And all is not OK
Help me out, is it just me
Falling down
If only I knew why
Please save me now
I don't know what to say
I'm starting to like staying in
The world can keep away
Please save me now
What am I to do?
Every single day I get more and more like you
Sitting doing nothing but I'm more than content
And then I'll go and mow the lawn
It's such a happy event
What's going on, going on, going on?
Something's wrong with me
Help me out, is it just me
Falling down

If I only I knew why
Please save me now
Don't know what to say
I'm starting to like staying in
The world can keep away
Please save me now
What am I to do?
Every single day I get more and more
Kinda got the feeling
That nothing can stop this going
And that's not alright
Turning into what you dread is worse than what you're thinking
Until you've seen it
Please save me now
I don't know what to say
I'm starting to like staying in
The world can keep away
Please save me now
I'm starting to like staying in
The world can keep away
Please save me now
What am I to do?
Every single day I get more and more like you
