

Go Sailor, Don't Go

thinking of you left behind leaving the door open wide turning around, do you know I'm there? the last thing you said hanging in the air don't you know this kind of heartache never mends? should I tell myself it was an accident again?

please don't leave me, don't go, I'm not ready yet spinning around having too much fun fancying I was the only one losing your patience every turn do you see a lesson to be learned?

did you really mean to leave me behind?
did my feelings ever cross your busy mind?
please don't leave me, don't go, I'm not ready yet

I spent half the night a stranger I was calling out your name crying so hard, I couldn't tell you how I felt I waited all day you never came