

God Machine, It's All Over

She said it's cold out here
Won't you let me in
We've been in this rain for hours
You haven't said a thing
And why do all the things have to change
Just when they mean the most
She said why do all the things have to change
Just when they mean the most
It always happens that way
It always happens that way