

God Machine, Seven

All love slowly fades
While we refuse change
And all things come and go
This we know
This we know
You can find a reason for anything
And you can make excuses for all bad things
And you can justify
Before present occurs
So you can walk away
Before I, before I begin to hurt
Can't you see that I still believe
That as long as you dream
Some things will always be
So please don't poison me
So please don't poison me
With your bitterness
You look but you see right through me
Like I don't exist
I don't exist
But I point and say you are a liar
You are a liar someday
