

God Machine, The Devil Song

Lights on the hill remind me of speeding trains
And hands on the window remind me that children play
And reflections on the water say to me you can live forever
But devil stay away from me
But devil stay away from me
Stay away from me...
And she said can't you see everything has its place
And here we are
And she said can't you see that somethings were never meant to change
But here we are
