

God Module, Difficult Reflections

Difficult Reflections

Momentary adoration
You've turned upon yourself
Casting difficult reflections
You can't see no one else
I've looked for art in angels
Lovely deformities
Regeneration through protection
Still all I found was me

Believing false convictions
Chose by these strange machines
An invitation to salvation
You've fallen to your knees
Creating world around me
Emulate the sounds you scream
Telepathic fabrication
There's still no place to dream

I see what you have hidden behind your eyes
Reluctant to sleep
You're afraid of what you'll find
I know what you have tried so hard to hide
Erasing your memories
Your logic
Your mind
