

God Or Julie, Let It Bleed Again

I followed through on a whim and I knew fully
You always loose in the end everyone told me

Now the bruises show and everybody knows
You can heal or you can fall

And like your only friend I fight you to the end
I hear you scream again your calling out
As the truth begins you let it bleed again
I hear you scream again your calling out

And its true Im a fake Im no ones savior
You always knew I was lost and you returned the favor

Now the bruises show and everybody knows
You can heal or you can fall

And like your only friend I fight you to the end
I hear you scream again your calling out
As the truth begins you let it bleed again
I hear you scream again your calling out
