

Godfathers, Halfway Paralysed (The Godfathers)

You say that you're so fine
I hear it all the time
The sunlight's in your eyes
It came as no surprise
Don't you ever walk away from me
I'm halfway paralysed
You serve to bring me down
And follow me around
It's such a crying shame
To see you play your game
Don't you ever close the door on me
I'm halfway paralysed
Now stop and realise
The pain I have inside
It's slowly killing me
That's what you do to me
Don't you ever walk away from me
I'm halfway paralysed
I'll say that you're so fine
You'll hear it all the time
The sunlight's in your eyes
It came as no surprise
Don't you ever close the door on me
I'm halfway paralysed
