

Godfathers, Tell Me Why (The Godfathers)

Why do I phone you up
Why do I make a fuss
Tell me why, tell me why
I never really thought
That it could be the two of us
Tell me why, tell me why
You are the only one, yes you're the only one
You are my number one, yes you're the only one
You are the only one
And why do I believe
That I could never leave
Tell me why, tell me why
But will this feeling last
When hearts can change so fast
Tell me why, tell me why
You are the only one, yes you're the only one
You are my number one, yes you're the only one
You are the only one
Yeah
And I told her I loved her very much
I told her I loved her more than life itself
Then I told her, I told her I loved her
More than I loved myself
And that's saying something