

Godhead, Fall Down

All these days filled with grief and darker grays are consumed by me
And everything that I do just makes it darker
And I fall down
Face into the ground you see
I ruin all that we should be
But you just save it
All this waste that I destroyed all in haste seems to haunt me now
And everything that I do just makes it clearer
And all my life through the darkness and the strife you surrounded me
And everything that you do just makes it brighter
And I fall down
Face into the ground you see
I ruin all that we should be
But you just save it all
And I fall down
And I fall down
And I fall down
Face into the ground you see
I ruin all that we should be
But you just save it all
As I fall down
You pick me off the ground you see
I destroy what we should be
But you just save it all
And I fall down
