Godhead, Feel

Never knew there was An ordinary way Never even seen the light of day Holding back from what I thought would bring me pain Only now I see was wrong again I'm forever lost in Yhoughts within myself Never giving time to anyone else

You take the only thing I hold to myself dear Now I see my future's crystal clear Crossed the path of What was undetermined lives Killed the road to their salvation Now I hear them in the darkness

As they cry I will Never feel elation Rid the past of all the wrong that I have made Or I'll take These actions to the grave Please forgive me all I wanted was to live

Remorse is now the only thing I can give Crossed the Path of what was undetermined Lives Killed the road to their salvation Now I hear them in the darkness As they cry I will never feel relation
