

Godhead, Inside Your World

I will take the time to read your mind
Til there's nothing left to find

And I will take the time to read your mind
Til there's nothing left to find

Who's to know what could be mine
Who's to know what could be mine

I'm somewhere in your mind
I'm with you all the time
If I could only live inside your world

And I will dwell in darkness
Waiting for a spark to shine out of your eyes
And I will wait forever in this chamber
That you built for me with your soul

Who's to know what could be mine
Who's to know what could be mine

I'm somewhere in your mind
I'm with you all the time
If I could only live inside your world