

Godhead, Lies

I can stand although
My bones are breaking
Prop me up and see
My soul is aching
Take the dirt upon

The ground around me
Bury me inside the grave
I built for you Walk into the room
Feel my stare of doom
Scars that line my face
Lies cannot replace

I can see through you
And I'll tell you
All my life
I've heard a thousand lies
Seen myself through
Someone else's eyes

Kill you with my words
Get what you deserve
I can see through you
And I'll tell you
All my life
I've heard a thousand lies
Seen myself through
Someone else's eyes

Remember what you did to me?
For you know I won't forget
Now you've broken everything
Is your heart filled with regret?

All my life
I've heard a thousand lies
Seen myself through
Someone else's eyes
All my life
I've heard a thousand lies
Seen myself through
Someone else's eyes

Remember what you did to me?
For you know I won't forget
