Godkiller, The End of the World

Open the gate Feel the wind Of devastation Of desolation Blows like the breath of a thousand vultures Wheeling above your head

In Nomine Patris Et Filii Et Spiritus Sancti You know it's coming Nothing or no-one will save you now Forsake your life What's the use of waiting for a salvation? Now it's too late

Did I do everything I wanted to do? Did I forget something I could regret? I know the end is near I feel cold like ice It's as if I was already dead I know our time has come

Open the gate
Hear toll the knell
Kneel down
Pray the lords
Did you ever think about how will be
The end of the world?

It smells like death
It smells like past
Like two thousand years
Like millions of dead men
It smells like...
The end of the world
