

Gods Of Blitz, The Rising

God knows that you tried to keep me satisfied your death-defying grace held me by your side But now those days are gone and I'm free to get it on with anyone I like before the morning light It's so hard to find I've got blood on my mind
I fear the dawn

The rising
the rising sun
when morning comes the race is run

We couldn't have carried on through the years that's why you're gone now the devil is by my side choosing my new bride But it's so hard to find I'm feeling outshined my time has come

The rising
the rising sun
when morning comes the race is run
