

Godsmack, Trippin'

Living a different way. You can't expect me to be the same.
Separating our lives and wondering why.
Face down I walk away. Every time I think I do the right thing, you turn your back on me.
Trippin' into a world that never seems too far away.
Too much time, too many wasted days.
How can you be this way? Now I'm alone and cold today.
I'm walking dead man's drive. Reaching out for my life.
I've been known to fuck up everything.
In this skin there's a broken man.
Trippin' into a world that never seems too far away.
Too much time, too many wasted days.
Just another vision in my world!
