

Golden Earring, Roxanne

From the Album:

* Grab it for a second

Lolita Roxanne, needs a man
Lolita Roxanne, needs a man
She's comin' home
Abandoned by all her friends
Criticizing, analyzing
Her frontdoor
She don't get the way
She used to get before
She can't understand it
She's always been so candy
Roxanne
By her frontdoor
She don't get the way
She used to get before
She can't understand it
She's always been so candy
Roxanne
Give it to you baby
Lolita Roxanne, needs a man
Lolita Roxanne, needs a man
One day she'll get hurt
I'll circle round
And she can stick all her troubles
And save that sound
From her radio in stereo
Anything that gets teared of the ground
By her frontdoor
She don't get the way
She used to get before
She can't understand it
She's always been so candy,
Roxanne
By her frontdoor
She don't get the way
She used to get before
She can't understand it
She's always been so candy
