

Goldfinger, It's Your Life

It's up to you what you can do
You left with all your choices
Your in the clear another beer
Will quiet all the voices

chorus

But it's your life and I certainly wouldn't tell you what to do.
But you're living like you haven't got a clue
It's your life, and I realize you're living out your dreams
But the end just might be closer than it seems.

I know just what ya think
You're on the brink of being someone.
Close to the top but will you flop?
Cuz you forgot where you came from.
I hope you realize it's gone soon.
Whose gonna love you if you hate yourself?

chorus

If I would've known what I know today
I guess wouldn't wanna have it any other way.
If I would've known what I know today
I guess wouldn't wanna have it any other way.
I guess wouldn't wanna have it any other way.
