Goldfrapp, Fondue Knights

A fondue knight on a winter's day I do in snow, in summer rain don't let it go, don't blow away this could so sweet on a different day those umbrellas in the sea and they tremble like a distant star they are for plays, waiting for you feel so small underneath this sky this dirty porn-star isn't big enough don't let it go, don't blow away this could be so sweet on a different day those umbrellas in the sea and they tremble like a distant star they are folding just for you
