

Goldie Hill, Wandering Mind

Wandering mind wandering mind
Wondering where you are and how you spend your time
Wondering if you're wondering bout the one you left behind

My heart is weak but my mind's a little bit stronger
I keep a tellin' myself everyday in my life
But the strain of losin' you has overloaded my mind
Leavin' thoughts of you workin' over time
Wandering mind...

My mind weaks up each day a little bit sooner
To start each day a wandering right on time
But each day ends with my questions still unanswered
Of why you left me here with a wandering mind
Wandering mind...
Wandering mind...
