

Gomez, Big Man

Feed fear
You sit and watch it grow
Are you afraid of being alone?

Eyes a cold sweat
And shivers to your bones
Don't let a rotten seed be sowed

All the world would like to play with you
You hide inside yourself the whole day through
You know it's true

Your outside, so full of hollow fear
In truth it's oh-so fresh and clear
Oh darling, you can leave the lies
But now you must realise

All the world would like to play with you
You hide inside yourself the whole day through
So brave the world outside your windowsill
You know you will

And if your life was on the line
Tell me, tell me how would you feel?
If your life was on the line
Tell me, would there be nothing left to feel?
Tell me, there is nothing left to...

All the world would like to play with you
You hide inside yourself the whole day through
So brave the world outside your windowsill
You know you will