

Goo Goo Dolls, Let The Sun

Cruel man
Don't look down
Down on me
'Cause you don't see

Caught out in the blackout rain
How much longer will it be
Build your tower in the sky
While they're living in the streets

Don't you know
We don't live here anymore
And there's nowhere
Left for us to go

Break our backs and break our balls
On our knees against the wall
Tell me what you're gonna do
When there's no one there to take your fall

Mean man
Take a seat, man
Why don't you let somebody else
Try to speak, man

'Cause you'll never let this go
And it's time to let you know
Please go away
Let the sun come back again
Let the sun come back again
Let the sun come back again
Let the sun come back again
Let the sun come back again
