

Good Rats, Yellow Flower

Verse: I met a lot of women everywhere
I met a lot of women, I don't care
But there's one girl sticking to my mind
The girl with the yellow flower painted on her behind

Thought that she was just another girl
Livin' in this or-din-ary world
When I asked to see some kind of a sign
She bent down and showed me the flower on her behind

Not really a Hook: Yellow flower, I love-a you
Yellow flower, you're the sweet flower anywhere around

Now I know that someday there'll be three
Someday soon she'll come away with me
I guess I knew all along she'd be mine
The girl with the yellow flower, painted on her behind

You know I love her truly (I love her truly)
The girl with the yellow flower, painted on her behind
I'm just crazy about her (indistinguishable chatter)
The girl with the yellow flower, painted on her behind

Right on!
(chatter and clapping - fades to end)
