

Good Riddance, Heresy, Hypocrisy And Revenge

- Where's the fucking money Keith?
- Dad calm down! Listen to me, the money is not important here.
- You don't know what's important! You don't know what the hell you're talking about!
- You know what the hell I'm talking about, you just never listen to me! I'm not gonna go to college.
- Ah! Your only eighteen years old for christ sake!
- Then I'm nineteen and I'm twenny, when does my life belongs to me?&quot;

Look or what you've left for me
Now that you've moved on
Won't pass for therapy
Just one more scar that's never gone
You tried to break me down
Time and time again
Rejection feels to scream
But I can't make a sound

It's me you tried to hide
As I hold you in my arms
As I feel your body broker
Is this just a dream?

Disappointment follows me
It's always just behind
Self doubt bred solitude
Frustration robs me blind
No pain, no part of me
I have grown numb & cold
Self-centered fantasy
Obsessed with self control

It's me you tried to hide
As I hold you in my arms
As I feel your body broker
Is this just a dream?

This is your worst fucking nightmare

One chance, a clean break
Much more than I can take
Lies cast shadows
Dark things nobody knows
You've lost, who's won?
My revenge has just begun
I've just begun
And I'm coming home
And I'm coming home
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
I've just begun
Yeah! Yeah! Yeah!
My revenge has just begun
