

Good Riddance, The Sky Is Falling

Look out below
the sky is falling
today is the day the weak will be slain see carrion swarm towards human landfills a final resting place for the enemies of the state their truth is a lie
with break neck speed
and sterile affection
we swallow a culture
being spoon fed to us
like dutiful sheep
being led to the slaughter we awaken infected
in the land of the free and the home of the brave
