

Gospel, I'll Have Faith

I like to smile when times get bad,
About the things that made me glad.
I like to laugh if I'm feeling down,
At a good memory that comes around.

I know today's all come and go,
I'll travel many different roads.
But my faith is always strong,
And It will help me get along.

I see tomorrow as a better day,
When all today's has gone away.
I believe many words in a song,
That there's a right and wrong.

As long as I shall breathe,

I'll have faith I'll believe.
Until my time has gone,
and my soul moves on.

I believe that tomorrow will come,
That God's will, will soon be done.
I have faith that dreams come true.
There is a heaven for me and you.

As long as I shall breathe,
I'll have faith I'll believe.
Until my time has gone,
and my soul moves on.
