Gotthard, Vision

So now that you're gone away
Now that you're not around me
I'm trying hard to hide this emptiness

Every heartache leaves a scar, a trace behind it
And God, I only put the blame on me

Are you really there, or just a vision ?
Are you really there, or just a dream ?
Just a vision
Are you really there for me ?

You gave what you had to give
I took it all for granted, yeah
Every now and then I feel you're there
When I'm layin' at bed at night
I could swear you're there beside me
Another sleepless night I'm wasting, wondering

Are you really there, or just a vision ?
Are you really there, or just a dream ?
Am I going to take the right decision ?
Just a vision
Are you really there for me ?
