

Gowan, Love Makes You Believe

(Lawrence Gowan)

Down deperate roads
Sometimes you run for your life
Only to find the answer
Suddenly slips out of sight
Yeah, you were fooled
I guess you should take the blame
Nothing can last forever,
Those are the rules of the game
Now I'm calling, hear me calling out to you
In the face of darkness
Never hopeless
Love makes you believe
Through the disillusion
And confusion
Love makes you believe
Don't hate the world
It only is what it is
Half of it's run by losers
They leave the rest to the kids
Now I'm calling, hear me calling out to you
In the face of darkness
Never hopeless
Love makes you believe
Through the disillusion
And confusion
Love makes you believe
So cover up my precious child
You're gonna feel the cold a while
So much is fake
What can you do
Just keep your faith
In one thing that will come through
Now I'm calling, hear me calling out to you
In the face of darkness
Never hopeless
Love makes you believe
Through the disillusion
And confusion
Love makes you believe
When you say it's over
You discover
Love makes you believe
Don't deny the wonder
Any longer
Love makes you believe
