

Grace Carter, Bloodwar

Oh, father, won't you tell me
I don't know where we stand
I've always stood by, waiting
For you to hold my hand

You don't show no mercy, one could never care too much
I guess you're not worthy, I've just had enough

This is a blood war
Forever a blood war
I just wanted your love more
You made the call
To be left in a blood war

I dreamt you'd adore me
I built pictures in my head
I'd write all my own stories
To make sense of onset

Now, I won't show no mercy, I will give you what you gave me
Questioning why I don't care for you no more

This is a blood war
Forever a blood war
I just wanted your love more
You made the call
To be left in a blood war

You took my youthful weakness, but I'm not a child no more
I'll give you forgiveness, but I'm not a fool

This is a blood war
This is a blood war
This is a blood war
Forever a blood war
I just wanted your love more
You made the call
To be left in a blood war
