

Graham Colton Band, A Hole I Can't Fill In

Don't look back
Cause we've been here before
But it makes no sense at all
Because all my past is strewn across my floor
And the writings on the wall
And mind is wandering
And my shoes have all worn thin
And it feels like every moment in my life
There's a hole I can't fill in
So give me a reason
That everybody's here
And don't tell me you don't know
Cause every lesson
Just don't seem as clear
Your time is up
You're free to go
And my mind is wandering
And my shoes have all worn thin
And it feels like every moment in my life
There's a hole I can't fill in
Don't look back
Cause we've been here before
But it makes no sense at all
Because all my past is strewn across my floor
And the writings on the wall
And mind is wandering
And my shoes have all worn thin And it feels like every moment in my life There's a hole I can't fill in
And my shoes have all worn thin
And it feels like every moment in my life
There's a hole I can't fill in
And it feels like every moment in my life
There's a hole I can't fill in
