

Graham Colton Band, Sending A Note

There's a reason for everthing
Cuz anything can turn you around
There's a dead end for everyone
Cuz anyone can let you down
So don't tell me cuz I found out
There's notbody to hear me out

I'm sending a note to everyone
Pretending that I can be someone who is better off alone
All of the ways I went too far
Just seeing how you're doing
I'm sending you a note it's been too long

There's a car parked in every drive
And every wife all went away
There's a blue sky that's touching down
And every town all looks the same
So don't tell me cuz I found out
So sorry to let you down

I'm sending a note to everyone
Pretending that I can be someone who is better off alone
All of the ways I went too far
Just seeing how you're doing
I'm sending you a note it's been too long

So don't tell me cuz I found out
