Graham Colton Band, Since You Broke It

Tell me would you think less of me
If I said I could do without you
Tell me would you jump and down
If I said I'd couldn't see you again
Maybe you would hurt too much to hear
I'm not the one that you wanted
Cause you can never get me again
You can never get me again
Cause you know it
Never seems to work right
Since you broke it
I don't really get what the joke is
Could somebody fill me in
Did you think I couldn't tell
You might do just as well without me
Did you think that I wouldn't mind
When I knew you were lying again
So what you gonna do with yourself
Move onto someone else you can play with
Cause you never can get me again
Yeah you can never get me again
Cause you know it
Never seems to work right
Since you broke it
I don't really get what the joke is
Could somebody fill me in
So what you gonna do with yourself
Move on to someone else?
Yeah, I doubt it
You can have your next in line
'Cuz I'm (I'm gonna') be alright in the end
Cause you know it
Never seems to work right
Since you broke it
I don't really get what the joke is, yeah
Cause you know it
Never seems to work right
Since you broke it
I don't wanna get what the joke is, yeah
I don't wanna get what the joke is
