

Graham Nash, Nothing In The World

Nothing In The World
Written by Graham Nash
Pub. By Nashnotes, Inc. (BMI)
from the album Songs For Survivors
2002

There's something coming through for you.
I can feel it in my heart the question is can you?
Leave the love light in your eyes.
You must believe it's true.
That there's nothing in the world I won't do for you.

When you live for love and lose, and your heart is gone.
That's no time for you to choose not to carry on, no
I know your world is full of pain
And your soul is black and blue.
But there's nothing in the world I won't do for you.

Well, I believe you know desire
But right now she don't know you.
And I can see your heart's on fire.
You better burn right on through.
Cause in the future you could find.
That there's someone there for you, just for you
And there'll be nothing in the world,
They won't do for you.