

Grandaddy, Egg Hit And Jack Too on the telephone all morning it's been awhile since i talked to you your voice, it transferred sweet i wish forever, i could talk to you of course i blame that guy tom i'm sure he talked you into doing it although i'm sorry he is dead if you go too, i'll kill him again and again keep trying them tapes and the records i'd thought you want them over anything this conversation is hard for me and it's stupid but we have to do it

you drove your car into a moving train you held each other heading for the end then you say it went blank now here you are with just a few days left
