

Granddaddy, Levitz (With Birds)

Birds come into town to my house
And I don't like it when they leave
They're there mainly in the morning
No I don't like it when they go

I just want them to comfortable
And I think they want me to be comfortable too
My window's big
You're welcome to come rest here by it

Birds come from all around to my house
They eat the bugs in the pool
When it's clean they might never come back
I should just leave it alone

I just want them to comfortable
And I think they want me to be comfortable too
My windows big
You're welcome to come rest here by it

My windows big
You're welcome to come rest here by it

Wrong to say that I am giving up
Right to say that I ain't showing up
I've got pictures at my home
And doors that transform me alone
Sunny days should leave a message on my phone

I don't think I'm gonna miss you much
For I've got dials and knobs soft to the touch
All your lectures will become
Converted into static hum
Sunny days should leave a message on my phone

Ode to sleep perchance to dream
To live again those joyous scenes
The laughter and the follies that
Are locked away inside my head
