

Granian, All In The Face

I am what the heart can only discover
I bleed for you
And now nothing but a painful reminder
Can't feel for you
Lost in a predicament
Can't help but experiment
With the other
Anticipate for another time
Lost in the maze of my mind

But you don't
And yet you won't

I see all the pouring rain around me
Yet I don't feel a thing
In time realize
Don't bother to stop and think
That sometimes when you can't be right
Got to find time to change the mind of another
But if you think that you might want to be
Don't hesitate to contain

But you don't
And yet you won't

Bleed my hands are still
See your face and so I
Leave this all for you
Until I bleed my hands are still
See you face and so I
Leave this all for you, down again

It's all in the face
It's all in the face
It's all in the face

Don't walk away
See my lie
But if it's too cold then you'll understand next time
So what's your hand and what's your ace
You find it's all in the face
