

Granian, Hands Down

Laying around in the mud with my face down Throw rocks and stones across it it's alright
If I said something would you believe me true and still not complain about it say "I'm right, I'm right";

I heard
It's taken me long to see you rise
You will not back down
And I heard
you're more than me
Hands Down

Just around the bend there's a man with a cross inside his hand Holding you back from something when the world has gone past

I heard
It's taken me long to see in your eyes
You will not back down
And I heard
you're more than me
Hands Down

so over in my head
This can't go on Misleading me on and on I will not fall
It's in my head I will come down all on my own only on my own
