

Granian, Immune

Can't feel a thing you leave me no other opportunity
I see my heart is bleeding
Before I know the probability
That I won't let the time fall below out of Mind me if I'm too lost to figure out just where I've got to
Before the lights dim down, listen to my voice and follow me
Don't blame yourself it's not your fault
To see it or to feel it

I've been to face it all
Somewhere doesn't seem like I belong
I am alone, immune, to everything that goes on try not to
Offend the different, don't bother me I'm minding my own
Become alone, become immune

Can't see a thing that you bring me
Consider my philosophy
Feeble people weakened by
Innocence is left inside delivery
But if you brace yourself
To see it or to feel it

Immune to all I see it
Know I'll never feel like this again

Can't feel a thing you leave me, no other opportunity
I see my heart is bleeding
Before I know the time that I won't let it
Fall below out of mind
I'm left to be

I've been to face it all
Somewhere doesn't seem like I belong
I've been to face it all
Somehow I just don't fit here
I am alone, immune, to everything that goes on try not to
Offend the different, don't bother me I'm minding my own
Become alone, become immune
