

Granian, In Here

I'll wait here
Until it comes down to nothing
Don't mind about all the labored days
And figure out how to and go on,
Do you care at all?
It seems that you get to me down in here

From where we are
Do you, do you believe in trying?
When nothing else is left to do.

Take me there
To where you go in a time like this
I try to find all of the other ways
And figure out how to and go on,
Do you think its fair at all?
It seems that you get to me down in here

From where we are
Do you, do you believe in trying?
Nothing else is left to do.

If you see me walking
The wrong way
Then I may

I'll wait here
Until it comes down to nothing
And you get to me
And you get to me
And you get to me down in here.

From where we are
Do you, do you believe in trying?
When nothing else is left to do.
From where we are
Do you believe in trying?
When nothing else is left to,
Nothing else is left to,
Just know that
You get to me down in here.

I'll wait
Do you even care at all I never knew
