

Grant Lee Buffalo, Truly, Truly

I was hangin' with some friends, in the parkinglot one night near the summer's end.
I leaned back against the glass,
Of a car to watch all those speeding comets crash
It made me think about us, made me think about us.

Truly, truly, truly I want you
Truly, truly, truly I do
Truly, truly, truly i want you

You where lying by the pool, and the surface of the water was a lapis jewel
I dove in to make a splash, woke ya from your dream,
nodding off out on the grass.
It made me think about us.

Truly, truly, truly I want you
Truly, truly, truly I do
Truly, truly, truly I want you
Truly, truly, truly I want you
Truly, truly, truly I do
Truly, truly, truly I want you

It's just been to long, that we set aside some time alone
I sure could use your point of view
And it's been awhile since we dropped our guard and cracked a smile
Don't you think it's overdue
Well how 'bout you

Truly, truly, truly I want you
Truly, truly, truly I do
Truly, truly, truly I want you
Truly, truly, truly I want you
Truly, truly, truly I do
Truly, truly, truly I want you
Oh, oh truly, oh truly!
Truly, truly, truly I want you
Truly, truly, truly I do
Truly, truly, truly I want you
