

Gravity Kills, Blame

I thought I could hear you Echoing words of denial Careful not to feel you near me Clawing out at what you call life

Hold on to what you want,
hold on to what you have Hold on to where you are,
hold on to where...

I face the change,
I've tasted pain,
digging a hole,
now take the blame
I fell aside,
I cast away,
covered in shame,
now take the blame

Thought I was beneath you Crawling in your bed of lies
You infected me with envy Tiny daggers in my eye

Hold on to what you want,
hold on to what you have
Hold on to where you are,
hold on to where...

I face the change,
I've tasted pain,
digging a hole,
now take the blame
I fell aside,
I cast away,
covered in shame,
now take the blame

Thought I could believe you selling me your big surprise Only needing one more victim, tearing down your one disguise

Hold on to what you want,
hold on to what you have
Hold on to where you are,
hold on to where...

I face the change,
I've tasted pain,
digging a hole,
now take the blame
I fell aside,
I cast away,
covered in shame,
now take the blame