

Great Northern, A Sun A Sound

Let us forget your existence
The day met, I will forget
On the other side of vacant life
Faces pass through
And we never saw what we saw
Ever again
The meters are too slow to know
To know
Our final thoughts
How far they got
And the simple things that we erase
With names that take their place
And we never saw what we saw
Ever again
Some things are so dangerous

Moments unexplained to us
To finally become aware
Everything you've ever seen is gone

(do do do do do...(etc.))

Some things are so dangerous
Moments unexplained to us
To finally become aware
Everything you've ever seen is
Some things are so dangerous
Moments unexplained to us
To finally become aware
The most beautiful things you've ever seen
We'll be gone...
