

Great White, Mother's Eyes

Slowly she turns away
Oh, don't look anymore
There's only stillness
No more air can he draw
No time to say goodbye
No last little kiss
No life where bullets fly
And now it comes to this
What's left in her world
The child's gone
Softly she whispers
Where did I go SO wrong
My future, my baby
Tell me what's goin' on
No light in Mother's eyes
Nothing you can say
No answers for the whys
She'll ask every day
The child's gone
