

Green River, Personality Meltdown

All right now

What is it you expect from me?

How do you want me to be

Why should I even try to live up to your expectations?

The cable snapped long ago

What I feel you never know

The cable snapped long ago

What I feel you never know

I was taught to look up to you but

Something fell along the line

Things didn't go as you had planned

Don't try to hard to understand

The cable snapped long ago

What I feel you never know

The cable snapped long ago

What I feel you never know

What is it that you want?

Huh? Won't you tell me what you're after?

What it is that you want?

What you want you cant get

What is it that you want?

What are you trying to do?

What is it that you want?

Can't you see there's nothing left!?
