

Greenwheel, The End

Is anyone else awake
Deaf ears on these words must fall
Dodging friendly fire
Marksmanship inspires

The end that is never the end
There's no difference between foe or friend
Blanks in the chamber, they have you believe
Faces so sober, trusting souls deceived

Mouthless children, still promises they feed
Bullets softer now, still we bleed
Dodging friendly fire
Marksmanship inspires

The end that is never the end
There's no difference between foe or friend
With blanks in the chamber, they have you believe
With faces so sober, trusting souls deceived

The megaphone speaks, still pulses race and scream
Things will be quiet soon, soon, soon, soon

The end that is never the end
There's no difference between foe or friend
Blanks in the chamber, they have you believe
Faces so sober, trusting souls deceived
