

Greg Laswell, Through Toledo

Another humdrum grey day i wonder if this rain passed toledo and if so i hope it left a sunny day through your window i can't make shape or form of this new emotion

i need a drive up san francisco bay i'd write this song on the way i'm not sure i belong here anyway she thinks that i've already gone away

maybe i'll head out for a movie the day is always so bright after a matinee wouldn't you say?

yeah i figure one day i'll snap out of this yeah one day soon i'll pull my head down out of outer-space yeah i figure one day i'll snap out of this yeah one day soon i'll take that drive out
