

Gregg Allman Band, Things That Might Have Been

Lately more than ever now,
My mind keeps drilling back in time...
And again I find myself dreaming
About the way things might've been
These days...they come, and go so fast
And I can't believe, my heart will ever last
A whole lifetime
... Living here without you

Leaning back and laughing
Such an easy thing to sell
Going thru the motions
What a show...
Suddenly this feeling,
Grabbed me by my heart
...And it won't let go...
And I need you so...

Still torn between your cheating heart,
There's a damn good chance,
That you'll tear mine all apart...
I could spend my life or a wonder,
...About the way things might have been

So wrap me up...and take me home,
Tell me one more time...that I ain't doing no wrong,
Oh, tell me,...baby tell me,...
Is this the way things should have been ?

Leaning back and laughing
Such an easy thing to sell
Going thru the motions
What a show..
Suddenly this feeling,
Grabbed me by my heart,
...And it won't let go...
